1964

JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY

1917-1963

Because we love, honor and revere him; because he awakened us as patriots; because he taught us about the greatness of America in words, as in practice; because he inspired us and because we now grievously mourn him; we offer this memorial as an indelible tribute to the influence the late President John Fitzgerald Kennedy had on our lives. As Seniors we will never forget him.

OUR THEME

For some reason or another people are always fascinated by the sight of new construction, and stop to look through peep-holes designed to satisfy their curiosity. During the last three years the people of Queens have been doing just that, as the World's Fair went up in Flushing Meadow Park. The myriad buildings and exhibits have inspired artists, poets, advertising men, and yearbook editors.

Although President Kennedy died tragically and many small wars have broken out all over the world this past year, we feel that the most important thing to be remembered and achieved by our class is peace through understanding, a foremost goal of President Kennedy's and the theme of the N.Y. World's Fair. If the many peoples from different countries learn something from their contacts at this Fair that will help them to better understand each other and to promote peace through understanding, then our national purpose and the purpose of this Fair will have been achieved.

It is our wish that as Seniors we all renew our sense of dedication, to our country, to our goals, and to those who have done so much to help us to this moment in our lives.

We hope you will enjoy FUTURA and that it will give you many happy moments and happy memories.

DEDICATION

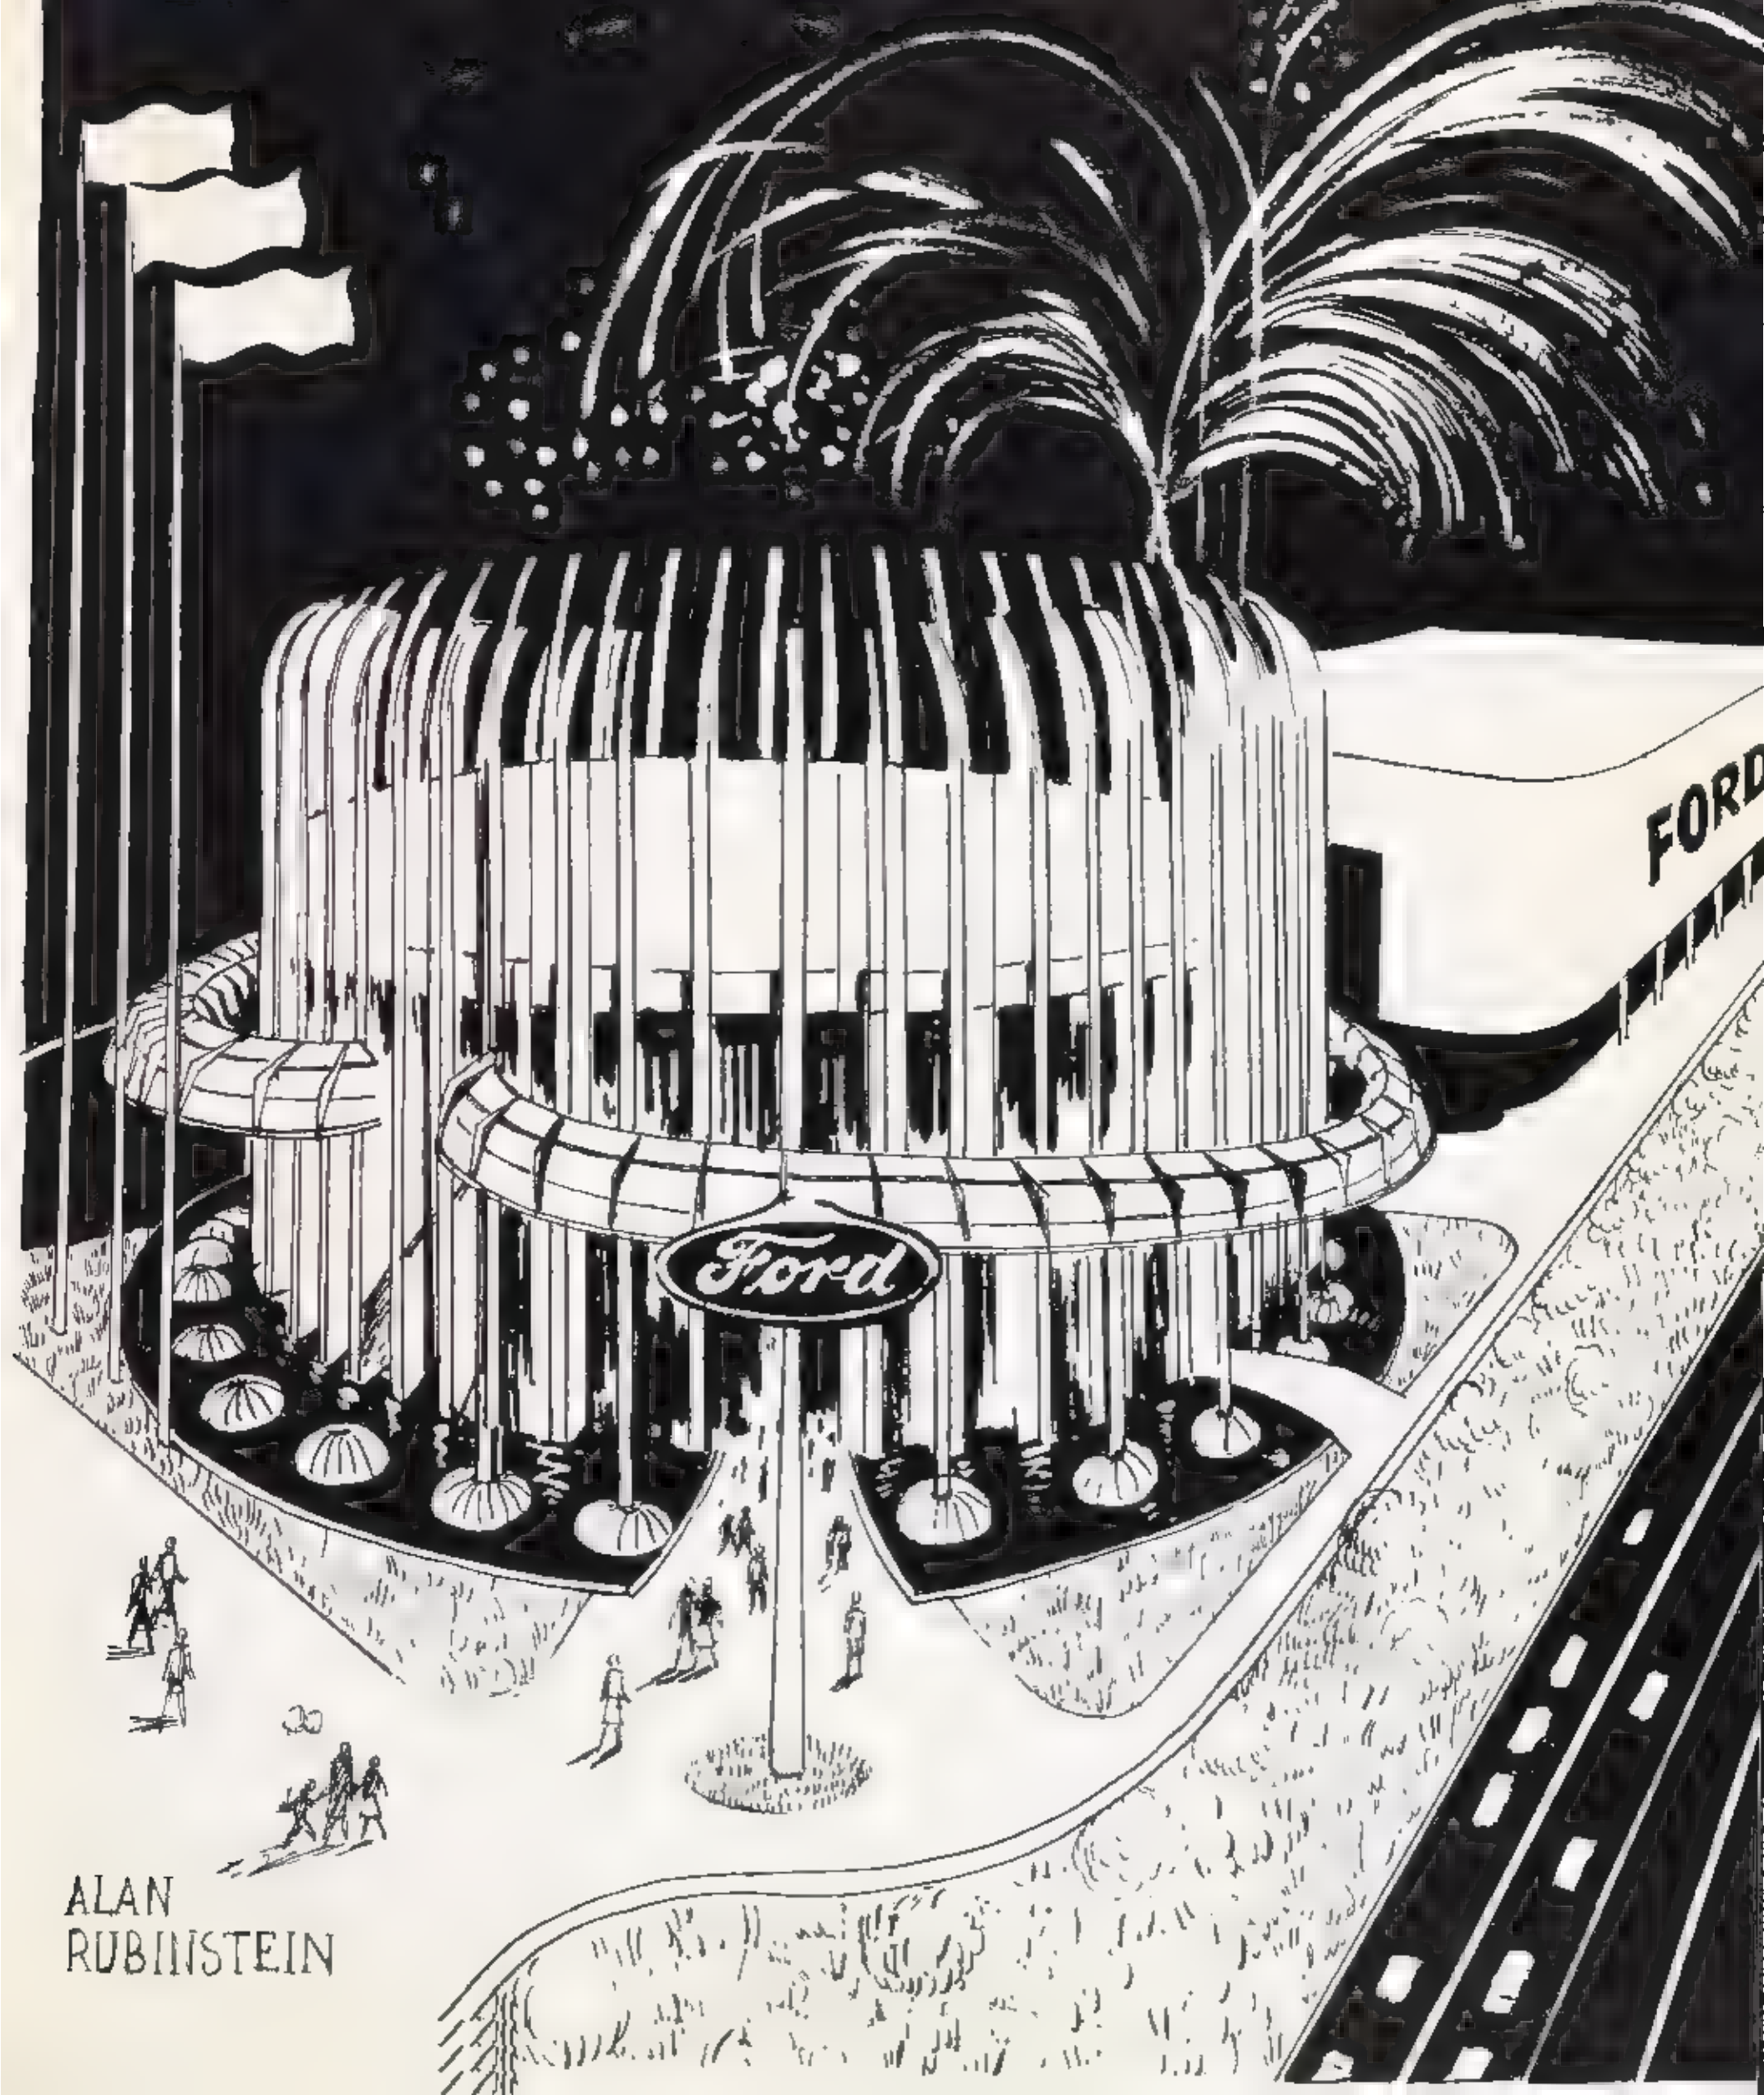

It is with great appreciation and respect that the editors of FUTURA wish to dedicate this issue to Mr. Joseph Cascio. Although Mr. Cascio ended his tenure with FUTURA last year, he was always willing to help out and advise us as we put the book together, giving his best. Last year marked his twenty-eighth as yearbook advisor in many schools, and so he had great resources to draw from in assisting us. Also, as chairman of the Art Department, he has lent inspiration to many young artists and has never ceased to give the most he had in instructing them. The Seniors of 1964 all will long remember him; we as the editors will not soon forget his aid, and we hope he enjoys the first issue he didn't have to re-read for typos.

ALAN
RUBINSTEIN

OUR PRINCIPAL

Dear Graduate,

Your high school career at Van Buren covered the span of the late President John F. Kennedy's administration. During this period of time, while you were developing as a sophomore, growing as a junior, and maturing into a senior, he was establishing himself as the vigorous, idealistic, and firm leader of our nation. When the startling news of his sudden death was announced, you were in the midst of attending classes. It is a day you will always remember.

As a student in high school, you thus had an opportunity to be a student of the climactic sweep of history. Your own youthful development was inextricably intertwined with the career of our youthful president. When he proclaimed the following declaration in his Inaugural Address, he was also speaking for you:

Let the word go forth from this time and place, to friend and foe alike, that the torch has been passed to a new generation of Americans -- born in this century, tempered by war, disciplined by a hard and bitter peace, proud of our ancient heritage -- and unwilling to witness or permit the slow undoing of those human rights to which this nation has always been committed....

Much thought has been given to the type of monument that would best immortalize his contributions. There can be no more lasting tribute than your own devotion to the cause which he so eloquently expressed. By a coincidence, the theme of the current World's Fair, "Peace through Understanding," blends perfectly with his credo. Yours is now the opportunity to grasp the torch, and light the way. In the words of John Masefield, the Poet Laureate of England,

"Grant to us life that though the man be gone
The promise of his spirit be fulfilled."

With best wishes,

COLLEGE OFFICE

No senior who is going on to another school will soon forget the arduous hours spent at the College Office, nor his general feeling of relief when he has left, thanks to the skilled college advisors, Mrs. Lorraine Kosstrin, Mrs. Louise Gallagher, and Mrs. Ruth Feiring. Many pamphlets are there concerning summer institutes at colleges, and college advice is available to those lower termers who are "just curious" or who are seriously interested in early decisions for college or who want to graduate early from high school.

CURRICULUM

MR. MORRIS MILLER
Chairman

ACCOUNTING AND MERCHANDISING

The Accounting Department actually services actively both commercial and academic student interests. For commercial students its main aims are to prepare them for jobs as bookkeepers, salesclerks, stockclerks, financial clerks, and the myriad related jobs offered by offices and stores, and to instill in the students the necessary social and economic background and concepts to productive participation in these occupations. As for academic students who plan to study Accounting, Law, Distribution or Business Administration in college, this department offers courses in Business Law, Accounting XH, and Merchandising. The courses of study outlined in the department's curriculum include 2½ years of Accounting, 2 years of Merchandising, 1 year of Law, 1 year of Business Arithmetic, 1 year of office machines. The department sponsors the Law Club, participates in Distributive Education Clubs of America, the Junior National Managers Association, and the Federal Income Tax instructional program, and fosters the Accounting Honor Society.

MR. JOSEPH CASCIO
Chairman

ART

Freedom to create and discipline in creating are both inherent in the instruction of courses offered by the Art Department. Studying Commercial Art, and Fashion design follows certain standards, and the student is not as free as he would be were he pursuing a course in Painting and Composition, where among other projects is work with linoleum blocks and printing. In the courses in the department's curriculum a learning artist also is given the opportunity to develop satisfying skills and hobbies. Bulletin posters, Senior Show scenery, and class displays are all efforts of the Art Department to brightening up the usually plain halls of the school. Student art work always on display lends a note of interest to passers and errand-runners through the corridors.

MR. HERBERT NESTLER
Chairman

An awareness of the world about him as well as new knowledge of himself are two aims in teaching biology to the high school student, and Van Buren's Biology Department makes every effort to assure their fulfillment. In the pupil's Sophomore year he is first introduced to modern lab equipment, he performs his first experiments, and so he learns the magic feeling of discovery and satisfaction in accurate results. For the biology honors students projects classes were set up and extra experiments and field trips created to stimulate their fertile minds. In their Senior year students could apply for the highly desirable college-level course. To all those who were working on biology projects the lab was open and the advice of the lab supervisors ready. As a result of this co-operative spirit Van Buren has often been a district or borough winner in the city wide competitions, and talented biology students have received awards from the F.S.A. as well.

BIOLOGY

ENGLISH

All the activities of the English Department revolve around its highest goal: helping the student better understand himself and life. Besides stressing effective reading, writing, and listening, the department hopes to instill in each student a lifetime love for literature. The department offers several special courses. A creative writing class and a journalism class are available to the student who wishes to build on his writing ability, and in his senior year he may be selected for an advanced placement course in college English, or elect a course devoted to Shakespeare's works or a Great Ideas course.

The English Department also sponsors the Poetry Reading Club, the Psychology Club, and the Lively Arts Club. These activities are all part of the English Department's constant effort to increase the student's awareness of great poetry, drama, and literature.

Today's aim in the teaching of modern language is to achieve some mode of communication among peoples. Students must learn to listen to speakers, comprehend ideas, and express themselves orally, as well as be able to read and conjugate verbs. In order to facilitate this new emphasis in education, the Language Department would like to place a tape recorder or a record player or both in each classroom, in order to augment the equipment offered for study in the language lab. Van Buren's Language Department instructs students in an amazing number of languages, including French, Russian, Spanish, Latin, Italian, and German. In addition the Department sponsors the French Club, the Spanish Club, and the German Club.

HOME ECONOMICS

Girls, take note! Van Buren's Home Economics Department not only trains you for future family life, it helps you thrive in the present. Especially geared to potential teachers, nurses, and social workers, home economics courses teach any girl to cope with the world about her with grace and intelligence. Although small, the department plays an important role in school life. It annually calls upon the genius of its students to create costumes for one senior show. It offers the Homemakers of Tomorrow scholarships through the Betty Crocker Foundation.

In the words of Mrs. Ethel Purnell, Chairman of the Home Economics Department, who takes great pride in her food preparations "laboratory," "The girls learn why certain reactions take place." And best of all, they get to "eat their reactions, rather than pour them down the drain."

MR. EDWARD EVERARD
Chairman

In an effort to build the minds and bodies of the students, the Boys' Health Education department has adopted an extensive curriculum. Included is a wide variety of activities and testing

A nationwide physical fitness test consisting of four indoor and two outdoor tests is administered during the spring term. In the fall months, a citywide P.S.A.L. test is given, consisting of four indoor events. In addition, testing on the apparatus in the gymnasium is a feature of every term. The apparatus involved includes the horizontal bar, parallel bars, side horse, mats and ropes.

Basketball, touch football, handball and softball tournaments are organized in most gym classes. The emphasis here is placed upon learning and enjoyment, rather than simply competition.

Department chairman Mr. Edward Evarard and his colleagues are constantly guiding students to mental and physical maturity.

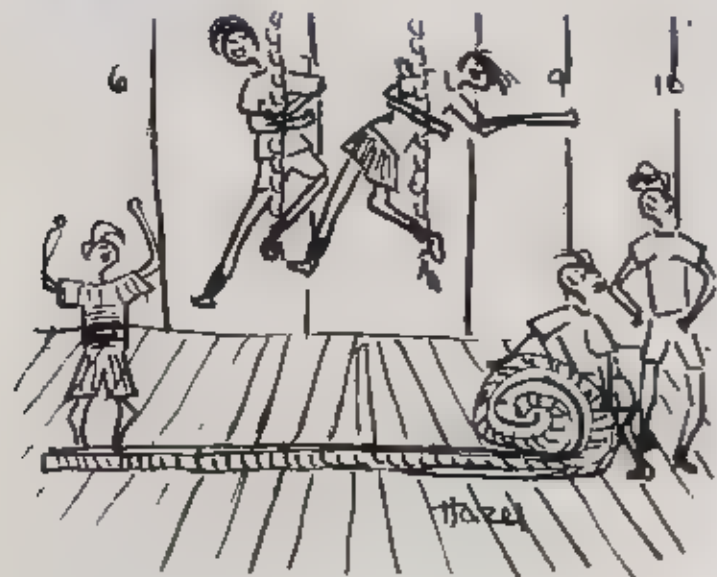

The Girls' Health Education Department is interested in giving girls as much vigorous activity as possible and acquainting them with a variety of sports and dance experiences. Developing self-discipline, responsibility are other major goals. The curriculum includes intramural tournaments in speedball, volleyball and softball. As a result of last year's experiments in apparatus work, a more extensive unit in it was conducted this year. By exposing girls to such a varied program, they can achieve a reasonable amount of skill and continue to enjoy several activities throughout adult life.

The department offers many extra-curricular clubs for girls desirous of improving their skills. Among these are hockey, basketball, bowling, tennis, and softball. Perhaps the most rewarding outgrowth of these girls' interest is the leadership program conducted in connection with the Leaders honor physical education class

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

Facing the problem of the great number of high school drop-outs who flood the labor market with little or no skills, the Industrial Arts Department offers courses in Mechanical or Technical Drafting, Woodworking, Metalworking, Crafts, Transportation, Graphic Arts, or Electricity, all of which may be taken as either major or minor credit subjects. At its inception, Van Buren was designed to remedy the lack of industrial arts-equipped high schools in the city. However, as overcrowding shortened the student's day to six periods, there was no time left to take a shop course. It is the aspiration of the Industrial Arts Department, according to its chairman, Mr. Perlman, to once again use our facilities to their capacity.

LIBRARY

Van Burenites' first introduction to the school's library usually takes place in their entering term, when their English teachers take the class down for an orientation lesson. Here the student learns the codes and various mysteries a library holds, and the many services it provides. All books and reading matter are selected carefully in order to supplement the student's curricular work and also to develop his tastes in any area of reading. During this library lesson the rules and procedures of the library are explained and research techniques are taught. Literature which is designed to augment classroom learning is provided on request, and can be used in the library. The librarians perform services for teachers as well. They compile bibliographies in each subject area, and these bibliographies as well as other special lists are available to students when they have special reading assignments. One feature of the library which has achieved much popularity is the listener's lounge, where students may hear recordings of plays, poetry readings, and music.

"Certainly in the technological and scientific world in which we live today, the average citizen must have some knowledge of the mathematical concepts and ideas which are the basis of the modern interpretation of the world," states Mr. Bramson, chairman of the Math Department. The mathematics curriculum in Van Buren includes Elementary Algebra, Geometry, Intermediate Algebra and Trigonometry, and a college advanced placement course in Calculus and Analytic Geometry in the twelfth year, plus an array of extra-curricular activities ranging from the Math Team sponsored by Mr. Cabin, to the publication Horizons sponsored by Mr. Vinegrad and Mr. Wilson, to the Math Help Club sponsored by Mrs. Buxbaum.

This year the department conducted a special experiment. The children from the three year Special Progress class in junior high school, if eligible, were given the opportunity to take Math 10, 11, and 12 in two and a half years.

MUSIC

Ours is a music department which can proudly display the accolades it has received for outstanding performances. Our Senior Band is one of three finalists in a city-wide competition, one of which will play at this year's World Fair. Last June, Doris Lang, a

Van Buren alumna, was honored by the Queens Village Rotary Club for her performance at the keyboard. Four of our fellow-graduates (Irene Portolatin, Patricia Perry, Steven Liege, Philip de Felice) have been given the Lincoln Center Awards. But there are those of us who have never taken a course in Music Theory, nor played in the Dance Band, nor sung in the Mixed Chorus. What skills have we derived from our required music cycles? In the words of Dr. Orshan, the department's chairman: "As applied to graduating seniors, their music courses should have given them the ability to make discriminating judgments in music—and to choose between the worthwhile and the worthless in their everyday listening." The department has asserted its aims in exposing us to music; now we must formulate our own listening patterns.

PHYSICAL SCIENCE

Consciousness of our modern scientific world is evoked by the teachings of Chemistry, Physics, and college-level courses in both areas. With an eye on the use of almost every area of science in modern discoveries, the department keeps its students up to date by incorporating discussions of news events in science into the lessons, thus making them more stimulating. The Chemistry Lab and the Physics Lab are open to budding scientists and special attention is given to students entering the Future Scientists of America program and the Westinghouse Science Talent Search. This proved to be a credit to the school when Van Buren had nine semi-finalists and one finalist, Steve Glazer, surviving the stiff Westinghouse competition.

MRS. DOROTHY GASMAN
Chairman

Judging by birth-rate, 1946 and 1947 were bumper years in American History. We post-war babies, seeking parttime or summer employment, have found that unless one knows certain basic skills, job openings are scarce. The aim of the Secretarial Studies Department, chaired by Mrs. Dorothy Gasman, is to provide students with adequate training in vocational fields.

If a student intends to enter the business world after high school, be it as a clerk, receptionist or secretary, the courses offered by the Department in typing and stenography are invaluable. If he intends to pursue his education in college, these same courses will facilitate note-taking and will serve to his great advantage in shortening the time required for typing term papers. Just think: you can go to sleep before three A. M. the night before the papers are due

SECRETARIAL STUDIES

SOCIAL STUDIES

In the span of three and a half years the Van Buren Student is exposed to world geography, world history, american history, and economics. Students who find their basic leaning in the field of Social Studies may elect such courses as Problems of Democracy, Leadership Training, Advanced European History, and Government 9. The Social Studies Department also sponsors many extra-curricular activities, including the History Honor Society, Great Issues Forum, Peace Corps Club, Human Relations Club, Annex Debating Club, and the history magazine, Retrospect, which was initiated this year. This term the department established a team teaching program, and the method of teaching history chronologically is also being tried. A new curriculum has been approved, and is in use for General Diploma classes in american history and economics.

MR. EDWARD KELSO
Chairman

SPEECH

"Our essential purpose in the Speech Department is to draw out the individuality of the student, to make each child aware of himself so that he can better function in daily life. We are not here to create Sarah Bernhardt or Marlon Brandos." This statement by Mrs. Desser, Speech Department chairman, best sums up its manifold purposes. The courses offered by this department include Speech 8xH, Public Speaking, Dramatic Workshop, Speech Nine, and Radio and T.V. Workshop for major credit, and Productions for half-major credit. A feature of senior life in Van Buren is the Senior Show, directed by Mr. Steven Silverman. This year's show, a western version of Goldsmith's comedy "She Stoops to Conquer" was received very favorably and met with some success with its musical additions. Among the other activities sponsored by the department was the presentation of "The Seedling" by Ernest Kinoy for the Brotherhood Council of Eastern Queens at J.H.S. 172.

MRS. MARY DESSER
Chairman

MR. MARTIN KAYE
Administrative Assistant

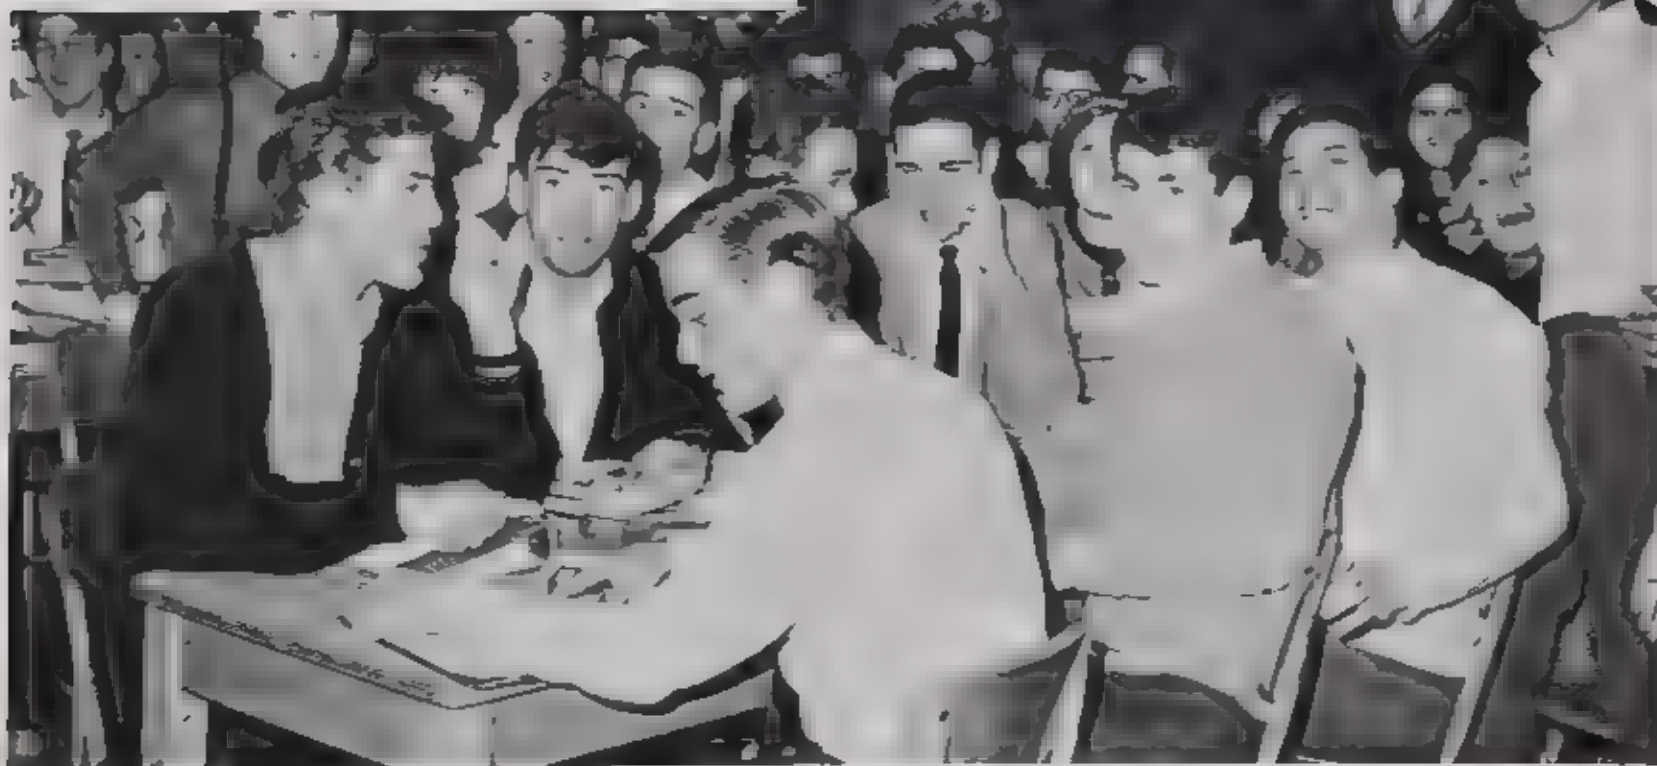

Spirit, opportunity, and an enjoyable Sophomore year are made possible by Van Buren's Annex. It is situated on the third and fourth floors of Public School 95 in Jamaica. Here, Mr. Martin B. Kaye, Administrator-in Charge, and nineteen teachers instruct the students in English, Geometry, French, Spanish, German, World History, Biology, Physical Education, Music and Art. This year's graduating class has many from the first delegation to the Annex, who remember the difficulties of renovation and adjustment. However, life at the Annex bore many similarities to main building life. Among the many extra-curricular activities, the favorites have been the Bridge, Chess and Checkers Club and the Folk Singing Club. This year the Big Sister Program was initiated by which volunteers from the Annex helped the pupils of P.S. 95 learn to read and write.

FLOOR

How hearts sank when some of us received postcards banishing us to our new Annex outpost! Later, we felt annex life wasn't so bad after all, with its good faculty, its many clubs and activities, and the students' jokes about the falling plaster while the building was undergoing renovation. But keep in mind that it wasn't an easy year for the teachers, either . . .

Sophomores at the main building had their complaints, too. They had to walk home in time for dinner every night, and didn't come to school until the middle of the day.

Exams were always good for a laugh, and cases of hysteria were common after such ordeals as midterms, finals, Regents, Boards, Regents Scholarship Exams, National Merits, Iowa Aptitudes, and on and on. At these times we eagerly trusted to the magic of the Suh Boon Sun wishing well, which was placed in the middle of the lobby to insure good luck for students.

Swimming lessons were frequently offered by qualified members of the Health Ed. department when the rain puddle on 229th Street and Hillside Avenue was deep enough.

We remember gratefully the preparation for the outside world which we received riding the buses to school. If it wasn't sufficient, passing in the corridors usually was.

G O election campaigns took on original aspects as ardent supporters dangled election stickers from third floor windows for maximum exposure. Candidates remember the free-area rush and the anxiety of waiting for results as the Elections Committee tallied votes with its advanced machinery.

Our final year of high school began as we excitedly viewed the progress of our new wing under construction. The additional twenty-five rooms were the subject of Bee Line features; interviews with the Mohawks who set the foundations appeared in Currents.

When it was completed, we fondly dubbed it the Rainbow Wing because of its multicolored rooms, and it was difficult to resist touring the new rooms as we went on other errands.

Outside events affected us, as well. We observed with all the excitement of a peep show the construction of the World's Fair in Flushing Meadow Park, which was begun when we entered Van Buren and completed shortly before we left, with many graduates anticipating jobs there.

The March on Washington in August and the school boycott in February set a new tone in our educational atmosphere. We remember with relief the peaceful resolution of the Cuban Crisis, and the admiration we felt for our President when it was all over.

More than anything, we remember our President, and the pain and grief we all felt when he was taken from us by an assassin's bullet. This great sadness brought Van Burenites, as well as the nation, closer together, inspiring in us all a stronger sense of dedication and seriousness of purpose. As we graduate this year, we will have for the rest of our lives the goals this vibrant young man set up for us, hoping we can fulfill the dreams he held for us.

SENIOR SHOW

Van Buren initiated this year a unique blend of comedy and songs in an eighteenth century show which heretofore featured little musical entertainment. The play, Oliver Godsmith's, "She Stoops to Conquer," starred in the more serious, romantic roles Michael Saposnick as Marlowe, Angelo De Feo as Miss Hardcastle, Brian Henkel as Hastings, and Carolyn Cohen as Miss Neville. Deena Miller and Lester Borden were delightful in the humorous roles of Mr. and Mrs. Hardcastle, and Richard Kane was perfect as the mischievous Tony Lumpkin. The thespians were under the direction of Mr. Steven Silverman, who said, "I enjoyed doing the show." He emphasized the fact that the rapport established between actor and director can often assure the success of a play. This year's production was judged in a Board of Education competition, and the cast were grateful not only for the tireless efforts made by Mr. Silverman, but also for the constant prodding and behind-the-scenes work of Martin Federman, the student director, and Jane Golden, the production assistant.

Faculty Adviser—Mr. Morris Weiss

Operating for the first time with a new advisor, Mr. Morris Weiss, Futura has made some radical changes from its format of past years. Art and Production Editor Jayne Blumenstock created an unusual layout, and Deena Miller collected samples of the top creative writing in the Senior Class. Business Editor Virginia Lemmerman was the epitome of efficiency in her handling of the burdensome business tasks with her tireless staff, as all the staffs were

SENIOR PROM

One of the most joyous occasions of the year was the Senior Prom, held at the Malibu Beach Club on Saturday, June 6, 1964. During the sit-down dinner photographers took color photos of each couple. Also, each couple received free tickets to return to the beach club. Dancing to the music of Sy Laskin and his eight man band ended at 2:30 A.M. Sunday morning when breakfast was served. All in all, it was an exciting and memorable evening

SPORTS

BASKETBALL

Madison Square Garden is the elusive goal of each New York City Public High School, as the first and second teams in each P.S.A.L. division are eligible to play there. This year, our basketball team waged a tremendous battle to reach the Garden. Though lacking height, rookie coach Mr. Marvin Kessler's team was long on spirit and speed. Finally eclipsed by Adams, Jamaica, and Lane, the V-Bee Hoopsters still proved a pleasant divisional surprise. The basketball schedule included three non-league games and twelve league battles. Van Buren started non-league rivalries with Francis Lewis and Forest Hills. Mr. Kessler, of course, was satisfied with his team's showing. He had regarded Van Buren as "strictly a long shot" for division leadership at the beginning of the season, but the Hoopsters were in the battle throughout. In addition to building men, a goal of any athletic group, it appears that Mr. Kessler built some very good basketball players

CHEERLEADERS

Spirited cheering doesn't just happen—Van Buren's Cheerleaders work hard to make it that way. Practice begins as early as 7.00 in the morning, and the girls have an academic standard to adhere to as well as one of performance, since to qualify for the squad they must have a seventy-five per cent average as well as a clear character record. In addition to lending encouragement to our basketball team at home and away, the Cheerleaders led our top scholars on during the taping of our participation on "It's Academic" last Fall. First operating under the counsel of Mrs. Misard, the group now works with Miss Robbins. Senior members of the squad were Captain Jeri Wellman, Jayne Blumenstock, Lynn Berin, Ronnie Lawrence, Ellen Finkelstein.

The girls in the Field Hockey Club, under the direction of Miss Rizzitiello, were given the opportunity this year to engage in a very exciting sport which is not included in the curriculum of the Girls' Health Education Department, because of the great skill required to play and the difficulty the teachers would face in teaching it. A highlight of this season was the viewing of the game between the teams from England and Scotland at Hunter College. This annual rivalry was part of the International Tournament of Field Hockey in which more than thirty-seven countries participated.

FIELD HOCKEY

BOWLING

Meeting every Wednesday, between 2 30 and 4.30, at Utopia Lanes, a group of about 30 girls took over the alleys for some bowling practice. Known as the Early Session Bowling Club, the girls were members of one of the many extra-curricular activity organizations sponsored by the Physical Education Department.

Comprised of Leaders and ardent bowlers, the Club sought to develop the best in sportsmanship and playing ability in each girl. Trophies were awarded to the girl having the highest bowling average and to the girl with the single highest score of the year

RIFLERY

Although the rifle team failed to repeat its outstanding finish of the two previous years, another outstanding record was achieved. Led by coach Mr. Raymond Langley, team captain Lloyd Seigel, co-captain Bruce Hande and high scorer Ronnie Huetter, the rifle squad faced more competition than in the preceding years.

Van Buren was once again hampered by the lack of a rifle range in the school, and the team was forced to practice elsewhere, confining sessions to one practice per week.

Mr. Langley appraised the values of riflery to include "the feeling of competition instilled, the knowledge of firearms acquired, and the adoption of a hobby that may last for a lifetime."

FENCING

Although fencing is a spectator sport, and an exciting one, not enough interest in Van Buren has been aroused for it. However, the boys on the squad enjoy mastering the difficult technique necessary for good performance, and the satisfaction derived from improvement. Coached by Mr. Blond, the boys reached third place in the league this year, an enviable record which they expect to improve in the future. The most exciting bout was against Forest Hills. This tournament went to the wire standing 5-5 with two bouts to go. The team lost both by one point. Seniors were Captain Steve Goldberg, Don Rosen, Steve Marlin, and Walter Locke.

SOCGER

Coach Meyer Diller's soccer squad had a disappointing season this year. After a 2-1 victory over Far Rockaway High School in their second game of the year, the team went into a prolonged slump and finished the season with a 1-10 record, placing last in the league. The Junior members of the squad look hopeful, though, and promise an optimistic season next year. Senior standouts on the squad include Jack Rohfritsch, Marty Kove, Mark Reischer, the team high scorer, Doug Teubner, Dennis Mascio, Steve Koshel, and Geoff Hurwitz

A visitor to the new wing in late afternoon may be surprised at the sight of gym-suit clad sprinters traversing the halls. Mr. Meyer Diller, coach of the Track Team, believes that use of the new wing for his group's practice sessions has helped a great deal. One goal of track is to develop physical fitness in the team members. Track is also a prime builder of both mental and physical discipline. The track season is divided into three aspects—cross country in the Fall, indoor track during the Winter, and finally an outdoor season in the Spring. Mr. Tom Collins, a junior high school teacher, served as cross-country coach this year.

TRACK

BOYS' GYMNASTIC TEAM

With the introduction of gymnastics as a P.S.A.L. interscholastic sport, Van Buren sent its first gym team into action this year. Twenty-one other New York City high schools were selected to initiate gymnastics competition, and four of these teams faced Van Buren in divisional matches.

Gymnastics has always been an integral part of Van Buren's general health education program, and the gym team was a natural outgrowth of the school's interest. Mr. Wallach, coach of the gymnastics team, feels that the sport is capable of developing "strength, courage, agility, and self-reliance."

No borough or city championship playoffs were held this year, although this innovation is planned for the future.

Gymnastics covers a wide variety of events which in itself makes the sport interesting. The events include rope climb, horizontal bar, side horse, parallel bars, tumbling and free exercise. The last category is a combination of tumbling and body control.

Under the leadership of Mr. Wallach and captain Duane Prackelt, the gymnastics team has engineered a good start in an ever-expanding sport.

GIRLS' LEADERS

Under the guidance of Miss Rizitiello, the Leaders have established a fine reputation both at Van Buren and on a city-wide level. This year they were selected to participate in a Tennis Demonstration sponsored by the N.Y.S. Physical Education Association, sent three delegates to the first City-Wide Leaders' Weekend, participated in a N.Y.C. Health Education Teachers Association conference, attended a Sokol Gymnastic Workshop, and sent representatives to high school playdays throughout the city.

Their purpose is to promote the aims of physical education through active participation in sport and dance activities and give service to the Girls' Health Education Department.

Among the traditional functions are the Father-Daughter Bowling Party, the Installation Tea when new Leaders are inducted, the Alumni Reunion and Volleyball Challenge, and Sophomore Open House, for those interested in applying to Leaders. In June, an invitation to all alumni is extended to join Leaders in the Mother-Daughter Dinner. For the Seniors this is their last official function together, but memorable and rewarding experiences and close friendships they have acquired will remain with them.

UNSUNG

We slept overnight in a graveyard
So that when we were fathers we could say,
"I slept in a graveyard the whole night,
And wasn't scared at all."

Of course, now as we scratch our stubble
And flatten out our trousers,
We remember the tombstone inscriptions.

"Sons," we said, "do not
Cast stones on sinners,
Or judge others by yourselves,
Or dance on the Devil's nights."

Now sometimes when we
Sit on the porch on a summer evening,
We hear our sons calling
At the outskirts of town,
As they sleep in our untold fear.

DEENA MILLER

A GULL SUFFERS AT DINNER-TIME

Gulls catch fish in the sun spark,
Dropping through shadows to snatch
Wobbling fins from ocean's green salt,
And bringing prey to their cliffs near heaven,
Where they make the young swallow the Glowing scales

The hunger close their eyes and finish dinner
In silence. Only the male squawks
He seems to enjoy the sight of animal
Nibbling animal, when in the sun he pecks at Tough feathers. Up and into his chest, he Scatters the plumage in the wind's howl

LITTLE LEFT

There was hardly any snow left on
The winter wet ground and the
Sun shrugged wearily as it
Passed between clouds and Sky and Rainbows.
The tallest tree by the
Low white fence had a
Branch bent deep for little Boys swinging and Sitting and Dreaming
The sun sort of smiled between
The skinny arms of that
Old oak that stretched out
To grasp the wind and Warmth and Rain.
If you can call a tree wise
He was wise, with his gnarled trunk
And his sagging muscles, and the straight back
Standing against the heat and Storm and Ugliness.
He isn't very pretty to look at now
But his summer green was thick and
Sweet smelling and leafy and the Shade was cooling and
Thoughtful and Sleepy.
It's kind of a shame that the new highway'll
Be going through those parts soon and
They'll be making room for cars
Instead of trees and Dreams and
Little boys.

ACTIVITIES

GENERAL ORGANIZATION

The 1963 1964 G.O. season was highlighted with several innovations. Some of the first year proposals were a season basketball pass which resulted in sellout games, annual dues and G.O. elections which strengthened the continuity of our student government, and a Van Buren Brotherhood Award was given to Theodore Bikel. Perhaps more important than its physical and material accomplishments are the G.O.'s primary goals, which are to teach participation in responsible student government, to help make student extra-curricular life more attractive, and to give students experience in areas of governmental responsibility. Mr. Widaen left Van Buren in February to assume a position in the Human Relations division of the Board of Education, and while the student government keenly felt this loss, they enjoyed resuming work under the able leadership of Mr. Auerbach

The Human Relations Club, just formed last year under the counsel of Mr. Widaen, has taken on new dimension this year. The first major event promoted by the club was a school-wide election for the recipient of the Van Buren Brotherhood Award, given to that figure in civil rights who has done the most to initiate a feeling of harmony among men, and Theodore Bikel won. He came in early March to receive it from Steve Nagler, the club's chairman. When Mr. Widaen left Van Buren to work in the Human Relations division of the Board of Ed., Mr. Auerbach became G.O. advisor and thus became counselor to this group. Under him, the group continues to send delegates to brotherhood conferences and forums.

HUMAN RELATIONS

CURRENTS

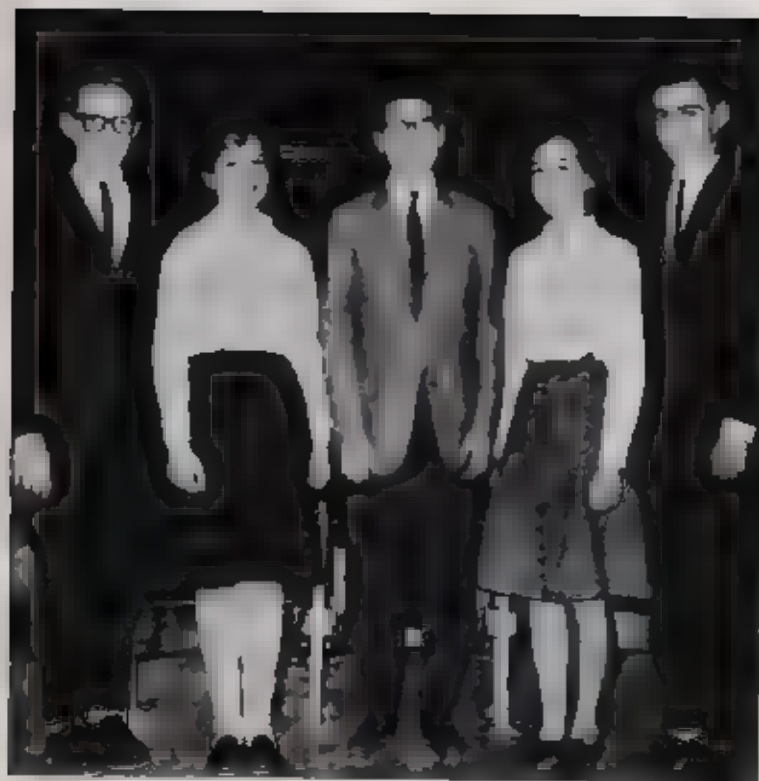

Currents, under the direction of Mrs. Patricia Santor, is our award-winning art and literary magazine. Each year, under the auspices of its editorial board, it has had a specific theme which is carried throughout the entire issue. This year's theme was transition and flux. Currents also sponsors a literary contest each year with the winning entries optionally appearing in the forthcoming issue. The magazine is published annually and is distributed through the G.O. Store and English classes. The graduating editors of 1963-1964 were Alyson Roberts, Steven Glazer, Candy Garter, Michael Siegal, and Laura Selub

BEE LINE

The Bee Line, under the direction of Mr. Raymond Marcus, is the Medalist winner of the Columbia Scholastic Press Award. It is the prime function of this four page newspaper to inform the high school students of pertinent events at Van Buren while also binding the Annex to the main building. Through the years, the Bee Line and its staff of reporters have served as informants to the entire student body in the fields of sports, school functions and honors, critiques, creative writing and has voiced the opinions of the students and columnists of Van Buren. In addition, a press release system has been organized which gives news of Van Buren's activities to community and city newspapers. This year the graduating editors were Geri Blitzman, editor-in-chief, Mark Kashen, Stuart Greene, Emily Boykoff, Ida Baron, Leonard Huber, and Seth Goldschlager.

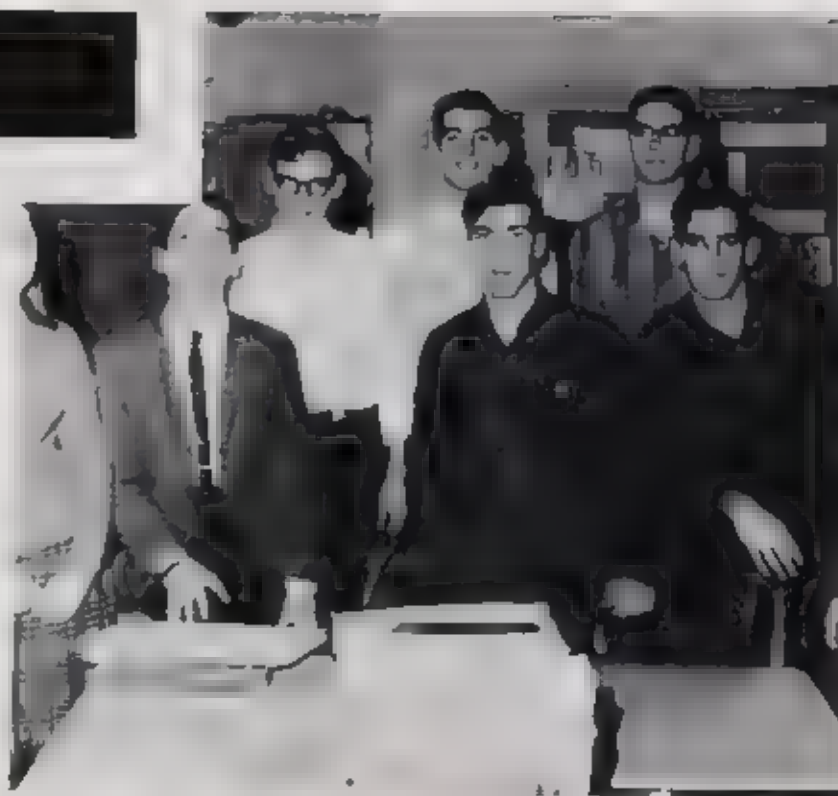

Horizons, the Math and Science publication, is written by outstanding students in these two fields. The magazine, which makes its annual appearance in May, is under the guidance of the Math advisor, Mr. Vinegrad, and the Science counselor, Mr. Wilson. Mr. Vinegrad is serving his seventh year in this capacity. A section on honor problems is included in the ten sections presented for supplementary work in classes. The students did all their own writing and editing, and made frequent trips to the printer. 1964's Math Editor was Harold Gabow. Judy Herzfeld edited and collected all science material. This year's edition includes the write-up of the mathematical project of Steven Glazer, which won him recognition as a finalist in the Westinghouse Science Talent Search. Because of the high quality of its contents and the workmanship shown in binding this magazine together, it has achieved First Place in the Columbia Scholastic Press Association Competition twice in the past.

HORIZONS

RETROSPECT

Retrospect, a product of history-minded students with a literary bent, is a publication just formed this year. It contains interesting papers written by students. Its art editors conducted a political cartoon contest, with the best ones being published, and the contents of this year's issue assure its perpetuation. Its editors-in-chief, Steve Price and Bert Hirsch both felt confident that the many new ideas both in the magazine and in its making made it of value to most history students. It does not follow one editorial policy and thus permits the reader to view objectively the various and unusual points of opinion expressed.

BOYS' SERVICE LEAGUE

Listening to the roll call of Boys' League, one usually hears the names of most of Van Buren's best, and there are many good reasons. To qualify, applicants must have an 80% average or higher, a clear character record, and must be recommended by five teachers, in addition to being interviewed by members of Boys' League's Governing Board. Aside from inspiring high scholastic quality, Boys' League's main purpose is to serve the school. It achieves this through its Service Placement Bureau. The Bureau operates through the homerooms, and any one, League member or not, boy or girl, can eventually find service in the school. Also, the Boys' League Ushers perform this service at almost every official function, including the Spring Concert, the Senior Show, the Talent Show, and at graduations.

The little-known Eraser Squad focuses its efforts on keeping the school well-supplied with clean erasers, and as such is an aid to learning. The boys in Boys' League are boys who aim high. They include an editor on the Bee Line, editors of Retrospect, Westinghouse semi-finalists, an editor on Horizons, an editor on Currents, and the like. Boys' League members are conscious of their school and the many benefits offered by a high school career, and besides enjoying these benefits they contribute through the service they give to the greater well being of the school and themselves. Advised by Dr. Feder, this year's officers for Fall and Spring terms were for President, Bert Hirsch, Richard Greenberg; Vice President, Richard Greenberg, Robert Sultan; Secretary both terms, David Seldin.

King George VI of England once said, "... the highest distinction is service to others." This quotation exemplifies the past and present goals of Girls' Service League

Girls' League is an honor service organization, but it is also more than a title or notation on your record card. Much faith and responsibility are placed in the hands of Girls' Leaguers. The organization seeks not only to aid the school in its administrative tasks, but also to serve each member as an individual. It performs personal services to its members by giving them high moral standards to which to conform.

In order to become members of Girls' League, the students had to meet certain qualifications, which were a minimum of an 80% average, a daily service period, and the desire to work for others.

Before they could be recognized as members, the girls had to train in small groups for six months. In this training period the applicants had to show initiative in making the projects that benefit many needy organizations in the community. Thus the Governing Board of the League could be given the opportunity to observe if the student was actually willing to give of her time and be a worthwhile member.

This year's officers for the two terms were Shirley Ronner and Meryl Fischman for President, Pat Herman and Hilary Redleaf for Vice President, Regina Leon and Jane Freeman for Secretary, and Ida Baron and Janet Fischer for Treasurer. Senior Governing Board members included Jessica Dunsey, Judy Rogoff, Barbara Green, Mary Lou Del Conte, Roberta Levine, and Debbie Talansky.

Girls' League's Fall activity was a trip to see "A Case of Libel" on Broadway, and its anticipated Spring event was a trip to the New York World's Fair

GIRLS' SERVICE LEAGUE

Arista is a city-wide organization honoring the student characteristics of scholarship, character, and service. The general goals are to spread its ideals throughout the student body. More specifically, they include the continuation of the Big Brother Project and expansion of the tutorial service, and the institution of a debating society. This past year Arista initiated the Big Brother Project, held a successful UNICEF greeting card drive, and set up an "Arista Bowl." This year's officers were Seth Goldschlager and Jonathan Bauman, Boy Leader; Ellen Kaplow and Rosalind Rayack, Girl Leader, Nancy Palchik and Michael Siegal, Treasurer; Cynthia David and Karen Blumenburg, Secretary.

ARISTA

ACCOUNTING HONOR SOCIETY

The goal of the Accounting Honor Society, headed by Mr. Robert Smalzbach, is to serve Van Buren by aiding teachers, and tutoring students in accounting and other commercial areas. The members, all of whom have at least an 85% over-all average, a mark of 90% or more in accounting, and a good character record, meet to discuss pertinent topics, such as their educational and vocational goals. They plan visits to business offices, where they can see the practical applications of the skills which they have mastered. These activities help the students to prepare for their future employment. This year, the Society's president was Dnise Boomhower; vice president, Phyllis Vicciarelli; secretary, Dorothy Zyburo; and treasurer, Diane Ferrigno. Congratulations girls.

SCIENCE HONOR SOCIETY

It is a safe assumption to make that students seen puttering around the school's science laboratories are members of Van Buren's Science Honor Society. In addition to maintaining an 85% general average and a 92% average in their science classes, applicants must actively work on an original project in order to become members. The society makes trips to the Brookhaven Laboratory, lectures on its projects, and attends college lecture series and summer institutes to further scientific study. Mr. Wilson, their advisor, feels "it fosters interest and broadens the scope of students because it exposes them to many areas of science with which they may not previously have been familiar."

For outstanding students of history with a genuine interest in the subject, the Social Studies Department supplies the History Honor Society, under the leadership of Messrs. Feld, Auerbach, and Mrs. Anker and Mrs. Balser.

The society tries to recognize outstanding leadership in the field of Social Studies among the students. These students further their education in the field of Social Studies by participating in a variety of programs and activities such as inviting guest speakers and directing panel discussions. The publication, "Retrospect," edited by Pres. Steve Price and Bert Hirsch, is an outgrowth of these students' desires to express their views.

HISTORY HONOR SOCIETY

MATH TEAM

This year, the combination of forty-five superlative math students and skillful faculty leadership produced a high-ranking, proficient math team. During the fall term, the team succeeded in tying for sixth place in the city-wide Interscholastic Math League, being outshone by only two non-specialized schools.

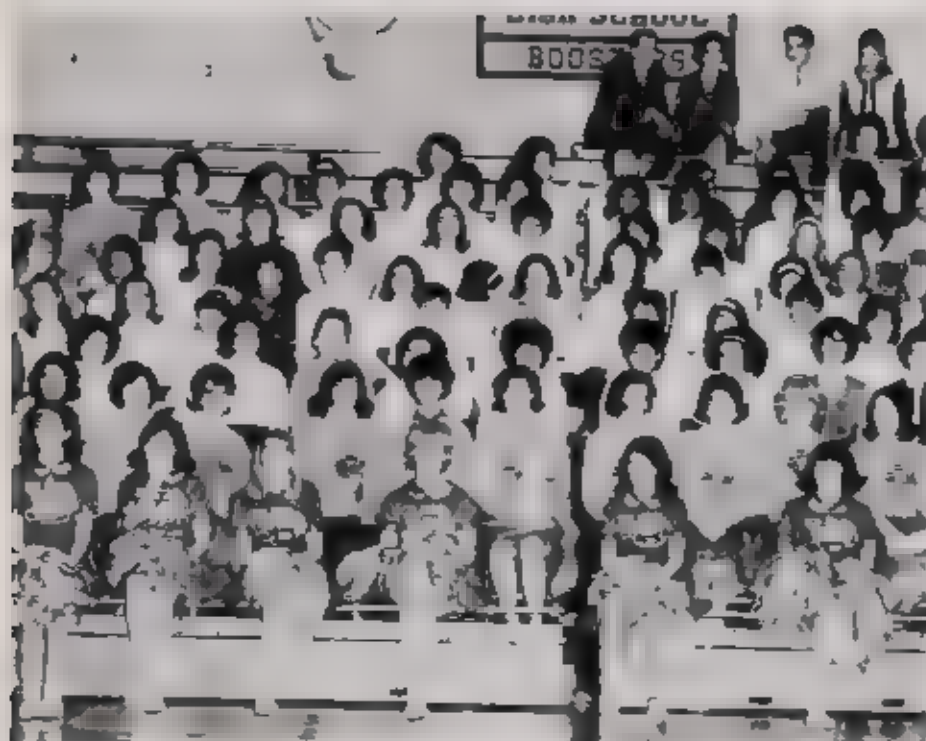

The team also participated in the Mathematical Association of America competition. Top-scoring students included captain Harold Gabow, Philip Mann, Dennis Drapkin, co-captain Steven Glazer, and David Seldin. Guided by Mr. Sidney Cabin, the team has done much to enhance our school's reputation

"We expect ten cents from the student and we don't feel it is too much to ask for children who are hungry." So says Mrs. Comstock, advisor to Van Buren's chapter of the Junior Red Cross. In the fall there is a drive for money to buy gifts to fill stockings for patients at St. Albans Hospital. Delegates to the City Council devise projects to cheer old people at Byrd S. Coler Hospital on Wards Island. In the spring money is raised for children in disaster areas, to buy whatever they need. This year's delegates to the City Council were Barbara Heymon, Craig Stevens, and Eileen Strang. During March, Red Cross Month, the Red Cross flag flew proudly from our school.

BOOSTERS

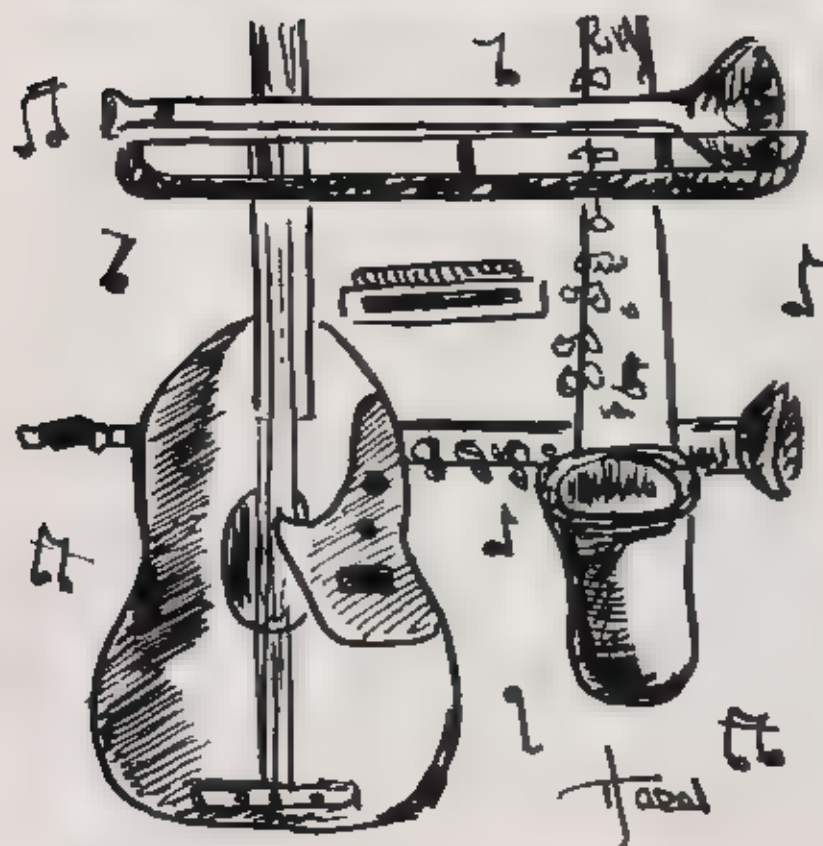

USHERS

The stage squad performs the vital function of assisting with lighting and curtains during assemblies and Parents' Association meetings. Their duties include monitoring lights, curtains, microphones, and in general maintaining the facilities on stage, as well as providing necessary furniture and items for speakers or performers on stage. Boys participating this year were Michael Sonberg, Michael Vizenthal, Leonard Gorlick, Charles Young, Arun Dhundale, Terry Young, Elliot Zisser, Tom Gardner, Jerry Chung, Jay Silber and Robert Goldstein.

STAGE SQUAD

MUSIC

Activities sponsored by the Music Department were many and varied this year. A new addition to the Department, Mr. Perkins, took over the Dance Band, and is building on its already excellent reputation, as well as enhancing that of the Boys' Chorus. Mr. Palmentari trained the Concert Band, Mr. Itzler the Orchestra, Mrs. Snyder the Girls' Chorus, and Dr. Orshan, the Department chairman, supervised the Senior Chorus. The highlight of the year, as every year, was the annual Spring Concert, which took place on the nights of May 22 and 23. The most unique feature of this concert was the performance of Haydn's Toy Symphony, in which Mr. Bleifled, Miss Glenz, Mr. Wolff, Mr. Kaye, and department chairmen played the toy instruments accompanying the Orchestra.

Aside from this grand event, the students were able to attend a rehearsal at Carnegie Hall of the American Symphony Orchestra conducted by Leopold Stokowski, and later in the Spring they saw a performance of La Bohème at the Met.

On February 5, the Senior Chorus sang at the Annual Brotherhood Meeting of the B'nai Brith at which Mr. Bleifeld spoke and Borough President Mario J. Cariello received a Brotherhood Medal.

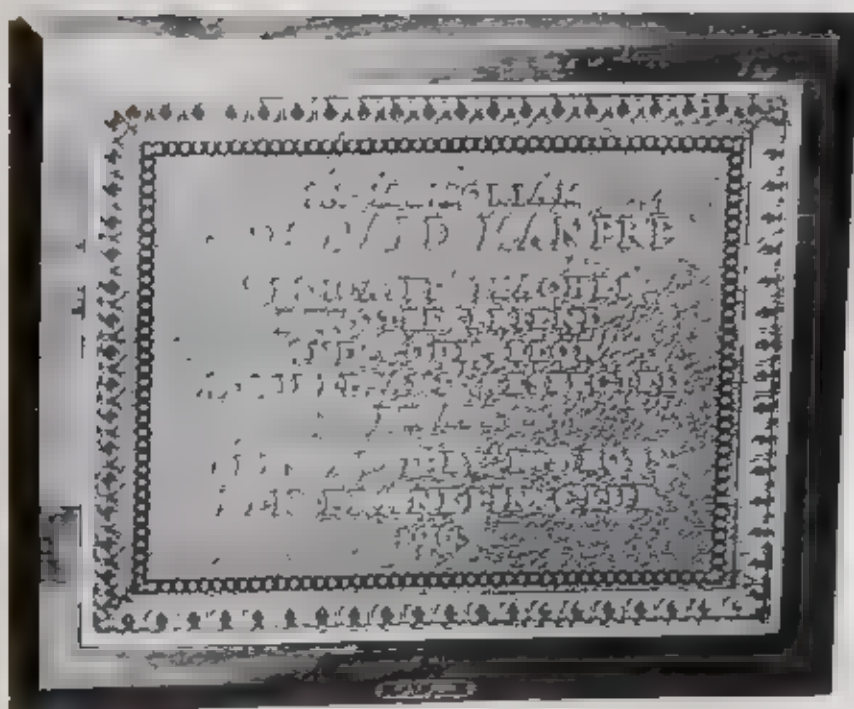

IN MEMORIAM

DON S. MANFRE

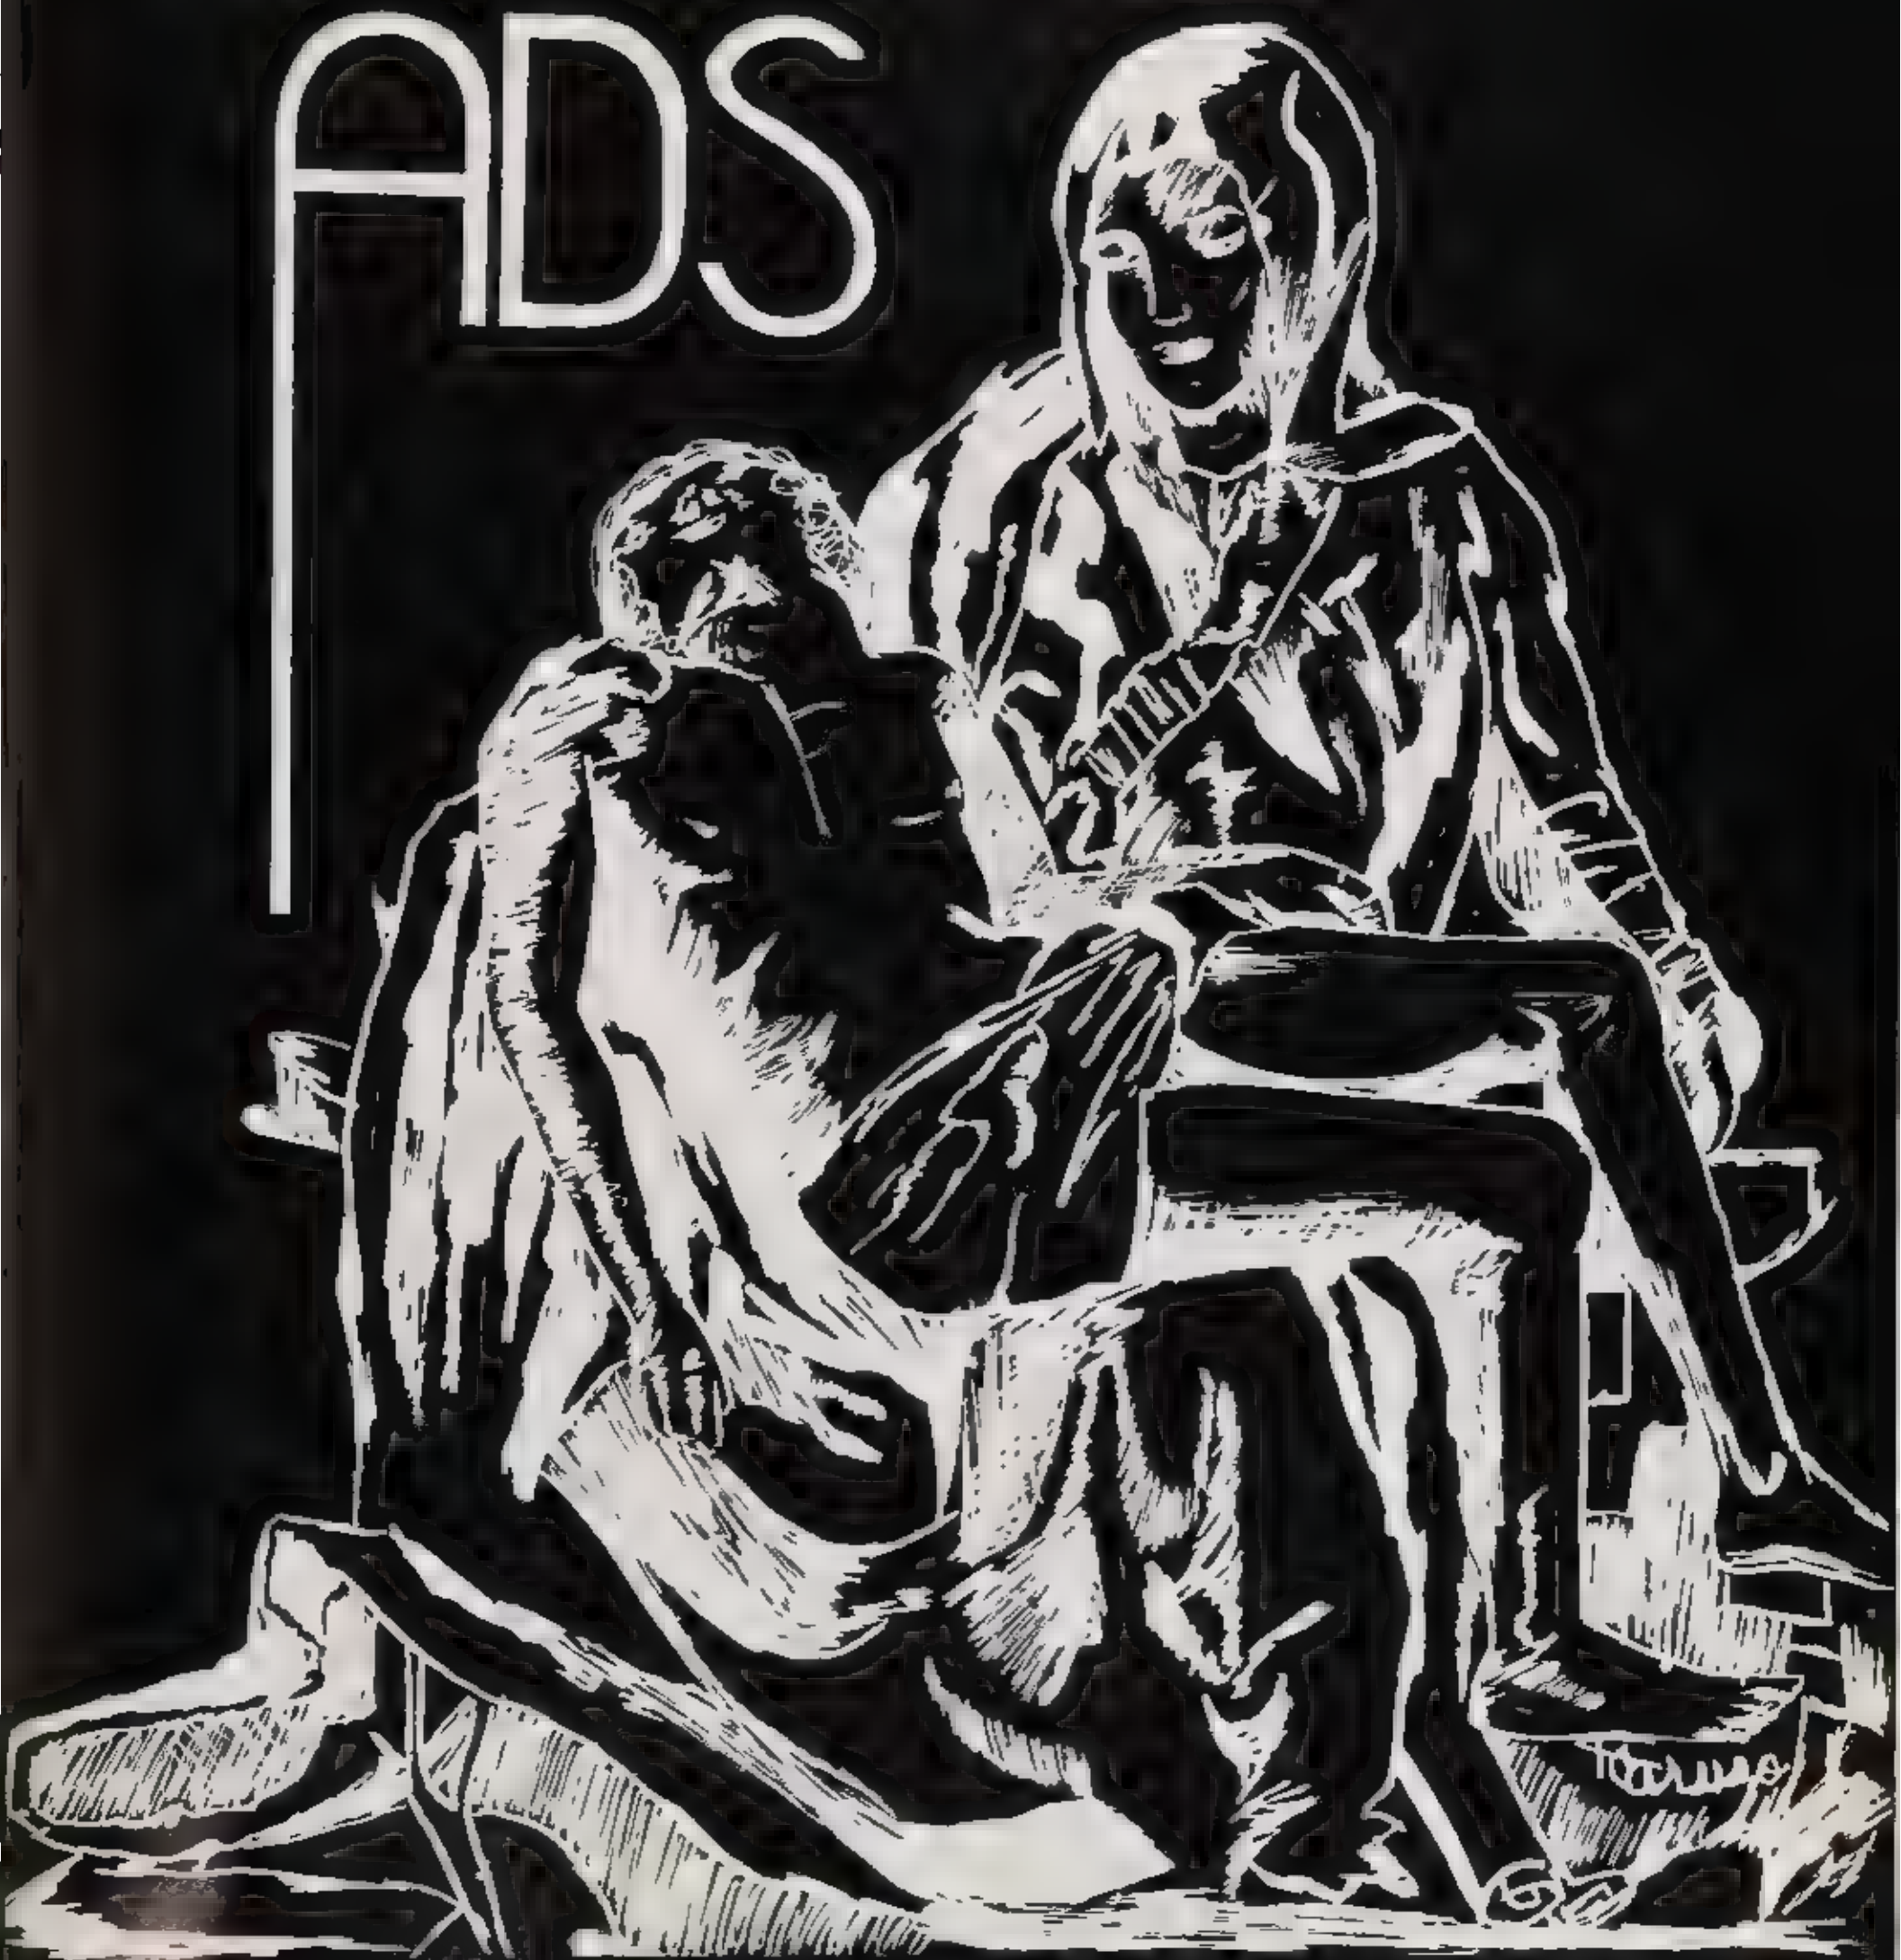

In the middle of last year Van Buren lost one of its most devoted teachers. He was advisor to the Ben Franklin Club, and as instructor in the printing shop, he was often consulted by publications which needed advice before they went to the printer. He was always ready with a quick smile and a word of encouragement. Because "His Boys" did not want to forget the man who always had them uppermost in his mind, they planted a young tree next to the school and the Don S. Manfre Scholarship Fund for the most promising graduating graphic arts student is being considered by the Administration.

What, no misery for us? Good Grief!
 Can't we have sadness though?
 We'll miss the green panic of despair and
 The slur of adolescent sleeplessness . . .
 All our guilt, shame, fear, lost
 In the grumbles of history
 As the pages of a calendar are torn.
 Where will neurotics be,
 When the muzzles of anxiety are thrown away,
 And the scholars loosen up?

Pity will leave us
 And remorse will flee when
 Time complains self-consciously
 Of this quick-sand sprinkled everywhere.
 So we must reckon with this sense of time
 In . . . "was" . . . "is" . . . "will be"
 And find life's glitter and gleam yet
 When Futura's faces fade out!
